

HW1 (65 POINTS)

Dear Students,

- The questions for this HW are on Zybooks. Please use the Zybooks editor to code directly over there. The programming language needed is “Python”.
- Please don’t plagiarize or copy your code from the internet. You will have 50 points deducted if found doing so.
- You will submit your programs in Zybooks and run the tests there.
- You will score complete points only if all the above conditions are met and your code runs successfully without any errors. Your code will be considered only if it passes all the test cases. Please remember that I will not be grading your assignments separately. It will be auto graded by Zybooks. Hence it is necessary for the code to pass all the test cases.
- The HW is available for a select time window. Please complete everything before that. HW’s will not be considered after the due date even it’s one minute late since all the submissions have to be on Zybooks.
- The due date for this assignment is mentioned in GaView.
